Discussion and Action.

Assistant City Manager Jennifer Brown presented the proposed Bed Tax Policy outlining how the city would meet strategic priorities and comply with state law regarding bed tax revenue. Discussion ensued regarding other cities' usage of their bed tax and how this proposed policy designates all 5.5% of the bed tax to arts and tourism initiatives.

Ms. Brown noted that the annual budget for these funds will be recommended to Council during the annual budget process, and any unused funds will carry forward to future fiscal years. Councilmember Knorr expressed interest in surveying the community about bed tax uses and having strategic conversations about long-term investment in these funds, especially as the amount increases with new hotels. She added that while the city is only required to use $171,000 for tourism purposes, there are many potential uses for these funds. Lastly, Mayor Smith suggested including this in the January 2026 futures planning session.

*Councilmember Marsh suggested potentially adding a section on tourism strategy to the general plan update, if not this year, then in the future.
